Howdy folks -

Harriet, 2476531

William Hittson (Hitt) Johnston - A grand son of Col. J. R. Johnston of Treston County Texas was born in Palo Pinto County Texas August 21, 1901.

Col. Johnston was one of the founding fathers of the Society of Friends of Patrons of Handicraft - Founded June 11 1834 at Longmeadows Trading Post - Near Coysa Ford on Lacey Creek in Lampasas, County, Texas now -

J. R. Johnston visited many times at the home of Phelan Cox and I am sure that James Christy the Cox knew his - I do not know that James Christy Cox was a member of the - Society of Friends - but I would say he was - he was a quaker and a protestor against the - Establishment - Hitt Johnston told me that he lived in a rural community between Jewett and Baffalo, Texas - He owns an old Chevrolet pickup with a small Cox over Camper that he lives and travels in a lot - after I saw you I wrote him a card with your Lubbock address on it and told him you were a relative - Even though he had told me that he had more damn things than he needed - and some like the David family he was not proud of. I hope you hear from him.

Hello Bonnie - Thank you for the kind words you spoke about me - I feel you are an excellent judge of human character - Will try to write you some over

Paper in Stone and experience but I will let you hear from me. After 5 yrs or so day hours at the Wild Center I learn something
